NEW FOR 2024

The Rebels feature 19 newcomers wearing the Scarlet & Gray heading into the new season, five of those student-athletes being marked as freshman on the roster and 14 transferring to Las Vegas.

Of those 14 transfers, six of them stem from the same institution and already contain familiarity on the field in JP Hefft & Will Girardi (Saddleback CC), Austin Cates & Jesus Gonzalez (CSN) and Brendan O'Sullivan & Blaze Hill (San Joaquin Delta). A pair of them hold Mountain West experience in Boon Fay (UNR) and Bailey Seeger (UNM).

The Rebels focused their recruiting class on the mound, three transfers look to hold immediate impact on the program's rotation. Cates hosted a 9-4 record last season for the Coyotes, picking up at least six strikeouts in four different appearances. Albert Roblez averaged a 9.39 strikeout per 9 innings rate while with Riverside Community College last season, working 23 innings. Will Girardi saw 63 innings last season for Saddleback Community College, including a 6-inning appearance where he allowed one hit and struck out seven batters towards the team's 11-1 win.

A trio of the five freshman are Nevada locals, two of them directly in Las Vegas. Both boast top-500 recruit honors, LJ Mercurius being honored as a Preseason West All-Region 1st Team honoree and Gunnar Myro being featured on the 2nd Team. Mercurius has showcased his talents at the national level, participating in the 2023 DREAM Series (hosted by the MLB and USA Baseball) as one of the 11 graduates of 2023.

UNLV was voted tied fifth in the Mountain West Preseason Poll prior to the start of the season, tied with New Mexico. The Scarlet & Gray featured one player on the league's Preseason All-Conference list, Rylan Charles picking up the honor from the outfield.

KEY NOTES

- The program earned their first set of Mountain West weekly honors in late February, Austin Kryszczuk picking up the league's Player of the Week award and Sam Simon being presented the Pitcher of the Week honor. The Rebels won all four games that week, including a win over Stanford, averaging 10.7 runs per game last week while only allowing three per contest.

- UNLV's offense continues to stand as the highlight of the program, sticking as a top-25 team in hits this season (21st) stems from a strong core of intelligent batters. The team's RBI leader, Austin Kryszczuk, currently sits 13th overall in the NCAA's "Toughest To Strikeout" list with a rating of 17.8, only striking out four times in his 93 trips to the plate so far this season.

- The Scarlet & Gray's holds some top marks among the conference as well, JP Hefft solidifying himself as the league's top hitter (32). The junior's hot stretch has picked up nine hits in the last four games, slapping two or more hits in all but one of the last seven contests. Kryszczuk reigns as the highest RBI rate per game at 1.3, currently riding a five-game RBI streak before the series up north. Kade Higgins has also quietly stayed as one of the league's top batters as well, holding a top-five spot in batting average (.367) and third overall in hits (29).

- The Rebels' pitching holds a handful of notable marks among the Mountain West Conference, Austin Cates still holding a top-two spot in the league in total strikeouts on the season with 35. Cates sits in the top-six pitchers in ERA with a minimum one inning pitched per game, fourth in the conference in runs allowed among those previously mentioned.

- UNLV's win against then-no. 23 ranked Stanford was a landmark win for the program, their first win against a ranked opponent since 2019. The Rebels' have produced double-digit runs eight times in 2024, a feat they achieved 13 times last season.

ABOUT THE OPPONENT

- UNR holds steady with similar numbers as a team compared to UNLV, sitting third overall in team batting average (.294) just behind the Rebels and fourth overall in team ERA (5.92) one spot ahead of the Scarlet & Gray. They'll threaten UNLV pitchers with their top-four ranking among NCAA DI programs in doubles, pumping 2.78 doubles per game for fourth overall.

- UNR's typical lineup features a pair of strong batters in Michael Ball and Jake Harvey, both sitting in the top four of Mountain West batters in batting average in the 2024 season. Ball serves as the team's leader in driving in runs, ranking third in the conference in RBIs with 21 overall on the season. His RBIs stem from his four home runs and nine doubles, tied for the Mountain West's top spot in the latter.

- Theo Millas serves as the team's lowest ERA in 19 innings pitched, holding a 1.89 mark by only allowing four runs on the season. That mark currently sits second overall in the Mountain West.
